Arthur Buchner, Managing Director and major shareholder of Courtney Capital, and former Head of Derivative Trading at Nedbank Capital will give us his insights into trading global markets from his perspective as a full time trader based in the financial capital of the world, London.

Arthur will give us his views on the European Debt crisis, the lesser mentioned US Debt burden and his opinions on other macro-economic issues that are set to shape the trading landscape for years to come.

Dr David Paul, currently the Managing Director of Vector-Vest Africa will shed light on the most complex of issues, the psychology behind trading.

Dr Paul has 25 years of experience teaching dealing desks all over the world. Although the topic of psychology behind trading is a complex and lengthy one, David will share some of his most valuable insights which he has observed over his extensive career.
